CareFlow Electronic Student Health Records Donates to a Local Shelter

Holiday donation benefits local shelter for Women and Children

West Chester, PA December 7th, 2013: CareFlow Electronic Student Health Records spread a little holiday cheer among the residents of the Good Samaritan Shelter for Women and Children in Ephrata, PA. Employees of CareFlow donated necessities, toys, gift cards, and family-friendly DVD's. Employee donations were matched by company founder, Brian Biddulph-Krentar and Marlene Chotkowski led the shopping and wrapping efforts.

Nate Hoffer, the Shelter's Executive Director said, "I am personally grateful for the tremendous support Brian has given the Good Samaritan Shelter. He has volunteered countless hours helping residents create effective resumes and he is a generous donor. In addition, his family and company have purchased Christmas gifts for shelter residents, making sure their holiday is bright. We are very fortunate to have Brian's support."

Marlene Chotkowski said, "CareFlow believes it is important during the holiday season to remember that not everyone is as fortunate as we are and that is why we help where we can."

CareFlow is an Electronic Student Health Record Solution focused on providing a simple to use, but comprehensive tool for healthcare management in schools. CareFlow includes a health center module, recurring medication administration area, online parent health form, athletic trainer module, and counselor module. CareFlow EMR will allow you to run your health center more efficiently, provide more thorough care, and assure parents and students that the health center is just as advanced as other areas of the school.
